The International Dyslexia Association Ontario Branch respects the privacy of your personal information (“Information”) and has provided this explanation as a demonstration of our commitment to protect your privacy. No information provided to The International Dyslexia Association Ontario Branch through this Learning Management System (“Platform”) shall be used or shared with any third party without the expressed consent of the provider of that information unless compelled to do so by legal authority.

The International Dyslexia Association Ontario Branch does not currently collect information except: (1) Information provided by your web browser to our web server, including such information as the site you linked from and your e-mail address. (2) Information provided by you in an e-mail message addressed to us. (3) Information provided by you in a form from our website or Platform, that you chose to complete, including quizzes within our Platform.

The International Dyslexia Association Ontario Branch only uses information for the purpose for which the information was submitted or to evaluate the effectiveness of this Platform.

Cookies

The International Dyslexia Association Ontario Branch may decide to collect Information submitted voluntarily through cookies. “Cookies” are used to store and sometimes track your preferences to provide you with customized and personalized services. A cookie is data sent to your Internet browser from a web server and stored on your computer hard drive. Cookies make your web experience easier by storing passwords and preferences.

Cookies are used by most Internet websites. You can adjust your browser settings to refuse all cookies or to inform you when a cookie is being placed on your hard drive. However, your election not to accept cookies may diminish your experience with websites because of additional time needed to repeatedly enter personal identifying information.
